AN OPENWORK AND RETICULATED ZITAN BRUSHPOT, BITONG, QING DYNASTY 清代紫檀木雕筆筒

China, 1644-1912. Of cylindrical form, the exterior exquisitely carved in high relief with a continuous scene of flowers, pine and willow trees, and animals, including monkeys, goats, rats, birds, and phoenixes, finely detailed with close as well as distant mountains. Signed Gu Jue in traditional Chinese characters, and carved either by the master himself or a close follower.

Provenance: Zhou Shengli (1951-2018). Acquired ca. 1990. Thence by descent within the same family to the present owner. Zhou Shengli was born in Shanghai, graduated from Shanghai Institute of Mechanical Engineering in 1977, and studied painting under Lu Yanshao (1909-1993) from 1978. In the early 1990s, Zhou established the 'Baosteel Painting and Calligraphy Society'. In the next 10 years, he and his colleagues participated in various national calligraphy and painting competitions and won over twenty of the highest prizes and awards. A painting by Zhou was auctioned once in 1995 by Gallery Duo YunXuan in Shanghai for a price of RMB 52,000, breaking the record for works by living artists at that time. His paintings are now exhibited in the prestigious Beijing Gallery, along with many of China's most important artists.

Condition: Old wear, several natural age cracks and minor losses with small old fills, few minuscule nicks, occasional light scratches. Overall fine condition, commensurate with age. Superb patina which over the centuries has naturally grown into a dark-brown color with a distinct deep-purple luster of the wood.

Weight: 842.4 g

Dimensions: Height 15 cm

The wood of a fine grain and color, the carver masterfully utilizing the variegating tones for accentuations in the composition, appearing much like sunlight falling onto the respective areas.

The brush pot is signed by the carver, Gu Jue (1662-1722), and carved either by the master himself or a close follower, whose designation was known as Zong Yu. The third character in the signature reads zhi ('carved by'). A native of Jiading, Jiangsu province, Gu was one of the most famous bamboo carvers active during the reign of the Kangxi Emperor and whose surviving works are extremely rare. Gu especially excelled in very fine and detailed carvings of figures and landscape within highly complex compositions, often combining high relief with shallow carving. The quality of the present brush pot is simply breathtaking, therefore it is possible that it was indeed carved by the master himself.

Literature comparison: A related brush pot signed by Gu Jue is in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, accession number 1994.382. 來源：周生力(1951-2018)收藏。大約購於1990年代。直至現任藏家前一直保存在同一家族中。周生力出生於上海，師從陸儼少(1909-1993)學畫。1990年代他和他的同事們參加了許多書法和繪畫比賽，並贏得了二十多個獎項，從而建立了“寶鋼書畫學會”。他的一幅畫曾在1995年上海朵雲軒參加拍賣以52,000元的價格拍出，打破了當時在世藝術家的作品紀錄。現在，他的畫作與許多中國最重要的畫家一起在著名的北京畫廊展出

筆筒上刻清代雕刻大師顧珏(1662-1722)款，可能為大師本人，或是其同期匠人或學生。顧珏字宗玉，江蘇嘉定人，是康熙皇帝時期最活躍的竹雕刻家之一，其倖存作品極為罕見。顧珏特別擅長在高度複雜的構圖中精巧細緻地雕刻人物和風景，通常將淺浮雕與淺雕結合在一起。因為筆筒雕刻工藝令人嘆為觀止，所以它很可能是由顧珏親自雕刻的。
